Matthew Schulz
General Manager
AMS of Tupelo

Dear Matt,

Sometimes the most frustrating situations introduce you to great people. That was certainly the case for us with our recent experience in Tupelo.

Upon landing in Tupelo for a quick en-route top off, we knew we were in serious need of a good mechanic to troubleshoot a problem with our landing gear and make some repairs to the plane. After working with Matt and his team at AMS of Tupelo, we knew we were in good hands. In quick order, the right parts were sourced, and the plane was back in the air.

We were so impressed by our experience that although we are based in North Dallas, we are seriously considering sending our planes out to AMS for our annual inspections. We couldn't have been more pleased with the team, the overall responsiveness and professionalism.

Thanks again to AMS for all the help.

Regards,

Reed Williams
